

10 Questions Entrepreneurs Should Ask Before Starting a Company But Don't

1. How do I go about writing a feasibility plan to determine if my idea for starting a new business could turn into a profitable business venture?
2. What kind of legal structure should I consider for my new business?
3. How do I design a plan for financing my business?
4. How can I put together budgets that will as accurately as possible measure my start-up costs?
5. How can I distinguish my business from others and increase my sales?
6. How do I put together a winning management team when I can't pay high salaries to attract and retain a talented staff?
7. How do I find a corporate strategic partner to assist me in bringing my invention to the marketplace?
8. What kind of business insurance should I get to protect my business?
9. How can I strengthen my sales skills as well as those of my staff?
10. What skills should I develop to keep pace with the growth of my business?